At the night service, the rector, Rev. E. N. Joyner, officiated, and delivered a most appropriate sermon. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers and ever-greens. Notable among the decorations was that of the beautiful marble tablet in memory of the late Rev. Roberts P. Johnson, who so faithfully and acceptably served this parish for thirteen years. Saturday's Charlotte papers contained an account of an outrageous assault on a colored girl nine years of age, an employee of the white graded school in that city, committed by a colored man, an employee in the same institution, who at once fled. Mr. E. B. Rock, the manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company at this place, had just read the account when a colored man passed his office who filled the description as contained in the papers. He at once notified the town marshal, and that officer, in company with a posse, went immediately in search of the suspected person. He was overtaken, arrested and placed in the guardhouse. Notice of the arrest was at once telegraphed to the Charlotte authorities, and Mr. Wm. Stitt, chief of the Charlotte police, came on the first train and identified the negro and returned with him to Charlotte. When arrested ed with him to Charlotte. When arrested | tions. he gave his name as John Williams, but after being identified, he said his name is Columbus Jeter, and that he is originally from Union county in this State. He also confessed to having served a term in the South Carolina penitentiary. While on his way under arrest to the guardhouse, an old negro woman begged that he be given a trial before being hanged. She was informed that he was a North Carolina prisoner, when she at once replied: "He kin get justice dar," and she went her way apparently satisfied.

The Rock Hill Fire.

The disastrous fire at our sister town—Rock Hill—recently, where the investments of so many of our friends were burned up, will illustrate the point we wish to make here. When a fire comes home to us, so to speak, the first question asked is, was he or she insured? If Columbus Jeter, and that he is originally son, three miles east of this place, nar-rowly escaped being destroyed by fire on Wednesday last. Mr. W. H. Cowan, who was in a field near by, discovered smoke issuing from the doors and windows of the building and called to his ashim in breaking open the door and subduing the flames, which had already destroyed some of the furniture. But for the providential discovery, the house would have been burnt. Mr. Thomasson's famuraterial so. 10 and apply to ALL your substances transactions. For the Yorkville Enquirer. MEETING FOR NATIONAL REFORM.

Editor of the Enquirer: Please grant me space in your columns to say to the people of Yorkville and neighborhood, that there will be a meeting on Wednesday night, 13th instant, at 8 o'clock, in the Presbyterian church, in the interest of National Reform. Rev. Wm. Weir, District Secretary, and Mr. John Alexander of Philadelphia, will be present. National Reform is something new to our people, and the question is ask-ed on all sides: "What is National Reform?" The gentlemen above mentioned represent an association of eminent Christian workers in the Northern and Western States, whose headquarters are in the city of Philadelphia. They are seeking to unite and crystalize the sentiment of our Christian people, mainly on the following great principles: 1st. The recognition of Jesus Christ as supreme ruler of nations. 2d. The retention of the Bible in our public schools.

3d. To secure the Sabbath to our nation 4th. The granting of divorce on Scriptural grounds 5th. Purification of our politics.

6th. Abolition of the saloon. This is the first time that the agents of this Association have ever visited our section. They desire to secure the moral support of our people in the hand to hand conflict that is going on throughout the Union over these great principles. I hope all our citizens will turn out to hear them. Publish this and oblige, J. C. GALLOWAY.

CONCERNING GUANO. Stand by the Record.

T has been asserted in this advertisement that "The Plow Brand," Raw Bone Guano was $3.00 per Ton better than Pacific Guano, as shown by analysis of the State Department of Agriculture. To remove any doubt on this point and confirm our position, we will stand by the record. The figures are infallible. When drawing our comparison, we used the lowest commercial value of each Brand, as shown in the record, viz: Sample No. 58, Plow Brand commercial value $28.34. Sample No. 34, Pacific Guano, commercial value $25.34. more zealous in our efforts to boom the Plow Brand and use its highest commercial value in comparison with the lowest of the Pacific, as has been the plan of my friend of the Pacific, the record will show a difference in favor of the Plow Brand of $4.69. We waive this comparison for the present, and squarely claim that when offering the Plow Brand we offer a goods $3.00 per ton better than any sold in this market, but we will not ask you to pay us the difference in price. T. S. JEFFERYS.

THE CYCLONE EXTINGUISHER. TIRZAH, S. C., March 10, 1887. MESSRS. JEFFERYS & HOKE, Gents:

THE Cyclone Spark Extinguisher put on my engine a few months ago is giving entire satisfaction. Before it was put on, my gin-house several times caught fire from sparks, so I had to quit running while the wind was blow-ing in the direction of the gin-house. Now I can gin and saw with perfect safety, no matter which way the wind blows. Haven't seen a live spark from the engine since I have been using it. And another good thing about it is, it can't wear or burn out. Will last as long as the engine. I think it a great invention, and wouldn't take double the cost of mine if it was so I couldn't get another one. I think you ought to reduce the present high rate of insurance on gin-houses where these extinguishers are used on the en gines, or, at least, recommend such to the companies you represent, because I see no risk whatever from the engine. Very respectfully, HENRY MASSEY.
